Business: The Mpower1 group of companies is an international operation, headquartered in the UK under the group holding company Mpower Partnership LLP and operating from offices around the world, specializing in business creation, turnaround, growth and development. Mpower1 provides an infrastructure that incorporates management, support, sales and all other aspects of a successful business operation to companies looking to expand into new markets, achieve exponential growth, consolidate an existing position or recover from a challenge. Mpower1 calls upon a highly experienced team of directors, senior level employees and it's global infrastructure to deliver an extensive knowledge of many international markets, the experience to manage the unexpected or unwanted and the necessary network of contacts around the world to achieve accelerated growth

Aimed at companies seeking new methods of expansion or companies that have seen their business stall, Mpower1 is a fast growing dynamic company offering an innovative approach to business development for generating revenue growth on a shared risk/shared reward basis. The company provides a stark alternative to the often high risk, high cost options of approaching venture capitalists or banks to fund hoped for growth or finding third party companies to market and distribute your products and services. Mpower1 invests management, infrastructure and sales efforts only in software companies it believes it can grow. The company works on a success basis whereby financial returns to Mpower1 are generated solely from the profits of the company or joint venture that is established for the purpose. In all cases, the objective is to realise incremental value from companies where previously, for whatever reason, it could not be realised.

Mpower1 provide a unique alternative solution, establishing flexible ventures with qualifying technology companies, creating regional subsidiaries and in some cases acquiring part or all of the share capital while allowing the original owners to maintain equity or a pre-agreed buy back. The experience and extensive global network of Mpower1 provide an advantage to companies that need to move forward and reduce the risks inherent in all other options.

Mpower1 is not a venture capitalist and will not invest time or capital unless they are also able to directly manage and control the joint venture or operation established with their partners.

As can be seen on the www.Mpower1.com website, Mpower1 has a proven track record of partnering with highly successful companies looking for growth in new regions or markets and stalled companies are given the often talked about "jump start" to the business. In some cases, Mpower1 can also prove to be a lifeline for companies nearing or in liquidation. Investment groups can also specifically benefit, with Mpower1 often able to help realise value from an under achieving investment that was losing value.

Mpower1 are not fee earning consultants, financial advisors or business angels but a unique business empowerment and investment partner for software companies.

The Mpower1 Group of Companies

jBASE International: Operating globally jBASE offers a suite of database management products and development tools. jBASE, the flagship product, provides a multidimensional database, a development environment including a development language, and a middleware component allowing other mainstream and standards-based products to communicate with the jBASE products.

BlueFinity International: Specialising in .NET, BlueFinity supplies leading-edge software development tools and consultancy services to the MultiValue database and Microsoft developer communities. BlueFinity has a series of products that improve programmer productivity along with components encompassing feature rich, business application centric functionality.

Connect360 International: Provides a Distributed Document lifetime Management System, Coview®, which offers a proven method of controlling, maintaining and guaranteeing documents, files and messages distributed by the company to its' Partners, Agents and Customers. Coview is a unique patents pending technology that fundamentally changes the way valuable multimedia content is published, consumed and maintained.

SC Sys: The OSMOSiS product, from SC Sys, is a set of Rapid Application Development tools based on MultiValued principles. The development environment, OSMOSiS, allows the creation of database definitions, screen designs, reports, documents, menu structures, security and much more. All RAD tools are available in Character and Windows graphical modes.

Pedalite International: Pedalite International develops, manufactures and distributes environmentally friendly safety products worldwide. The Pedalite range of products are now the best selling environmentally friendly cycling, walking, hiking, equestrian, running and jogging safety accessories worldwide! As part of the Mpower1 Group of companies, Pedalite has been able to invest in quality, customer service and innovation to further extend its range of products.

BAS: Performs application development for any MultiValue database or .NET customer who does not have the in-house skills or time to develop, migrate or enhance their systems themselves. Development can either be provided as a one time project or as part of an outsourced development and support contract depending on the needs of the customer.

Smarthaul International: providing a solution to the multitude of compliance and information requirements for the haulage industry and hauliers in the United Kingdom. The aim of the company is to provide, in an easy to use form and in one place, all of the governmental and industry publications that are needed by the Haulage industry in the UK

Mpower1 International: The main operating company of the Mpower1 group of companies. Mpower1 provides infrastructure, management, administration, strategic planning and corporate compliance to all of the companies within the Mpower1 group.
